

PhDr. Ingeborg Radok Žádná

is the Rector of the Academy of Performing Arts in Prague and also teaches at the Music Management Department of the Music and Dance Faculty of AMU.

As well as being a concert and recording artist she held managerial positions at various cultural institutions (the Prague Philharmonic Choir, Prague Philharmonie orchestra, Prague State Opera, etc.). During her 12-year tenure at AMU, she was nominated for many grant panels and workgroups and represents AMU on the Council of Higher Education Institutions. She is the leader and coordinator of several nationwide projects in various fields. In 2018 she was reelected a member of the Council of the Association Européenne des Conservatoires, Académies de Musique et Musikhochschulen (AEC), of which HAMU is an active member.